

THE WILDFLOWER, MADISON

Your Celebration Spaces

A space-by-space guide to choosing where your day unfolds

Three settings for your ceremony, three for cocktail hour, and three for dinner, all on one estate that belongs to one couple a day. Walk through each one on the pages that follow, note what moves you, then write your choices on the last page. Your planner takes it from there.

THE COUPLE

WEDDING DATE

GUEST COUNT

Three ceremony settings · Three cocktail hours · Three receptions · One wedding a day

Before you begin

Think of this as a menu for the shape of your day. There is no wrong combination, only the one that feels like the two of you. A few thoughts from couples who have stood where you are:

Choose the ceremony by feeling, not by headcount alone. The arches hold your fullest guest list under open sky, the chapel wraps seventy-five people around your vows, and the lakefront puts still water behind every photograph. Picture the moment you turn around for the first look, and trust that instinct.

Let cocktail hour carry guests somewhere new. The walk from ceremony to cocktails is part of the experience. Courtyard fountain, pavilion shade or the flower garden in bloom: each one gives your guests a fresh view of the estate while the two of you steal away for portraits.

Size the reception to the party you are throwing. The conservatory seats everyone under a clear ceiling of stars, the pavilion keeps up to 120 beside the outdoor fireplace, and the flower garden sets dinner under market lights. If a space is not sized for your full count, your planner will tell you straight away.

HOW THE DAY FLOWS

Ceremony, cocktails,
then dinner

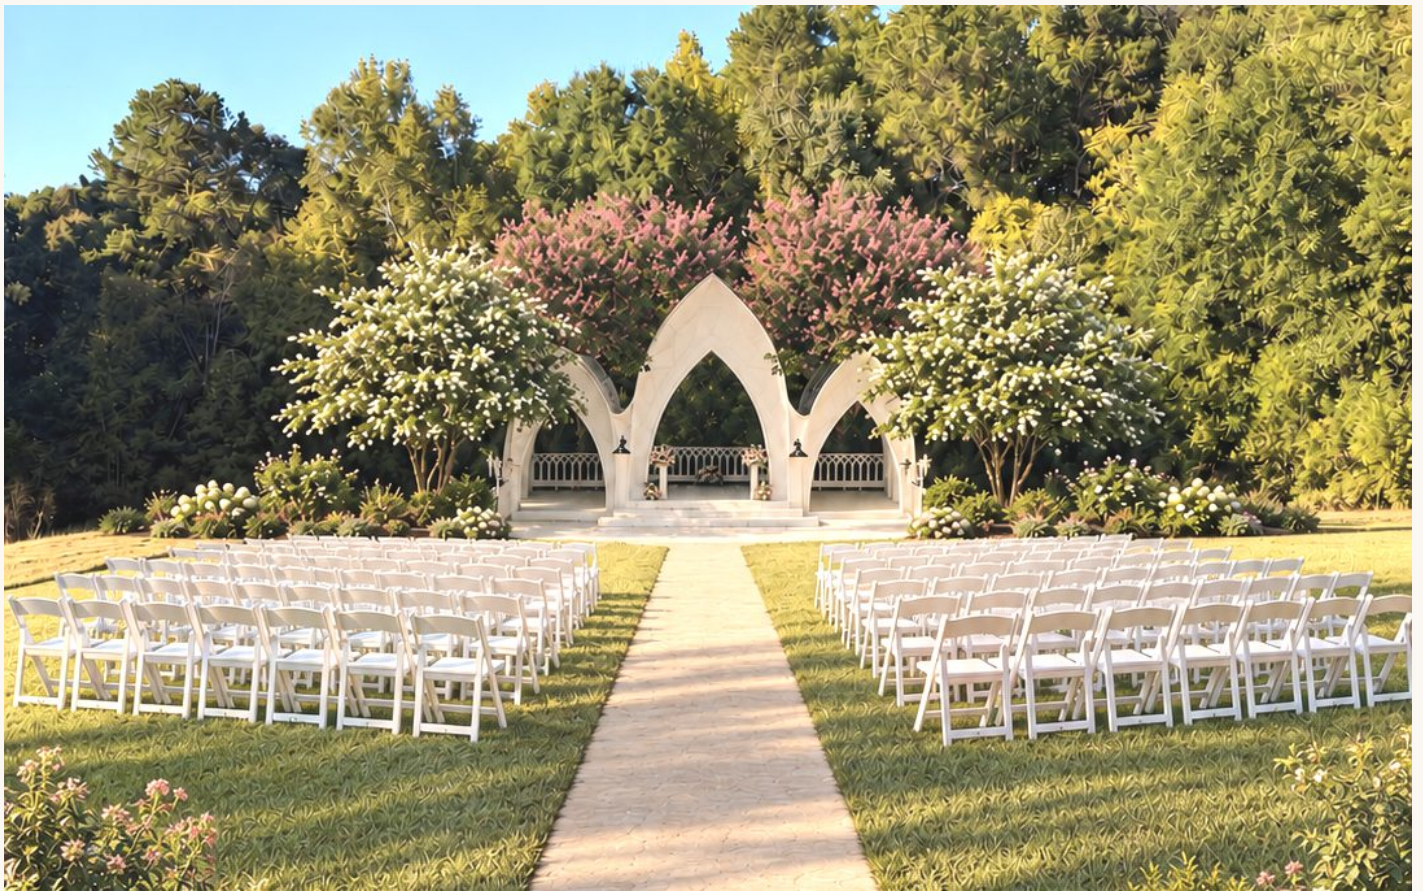

THE SPACES AT A GLANCE

The Garden Arches	300
The White Chapel	75
The Lakefront	200
The Courtyard	250
The Garden Pavilion	120
The Flower Garden	200 / 120
The Conservatory	300

Capacities are planning figures from our current layouts. Your planner confirms the final floor plan for your guest count.

WHEN YOU ARE FINISHED

Type directly into this PDF and email it back, bring it to your tour, or simply talk it through with us. Nothing here is final until you say so. Change your mind as often as you like.

The Garden Arches

An open-air ceremony among the gardens

The heart of the grounds, framed by sculpted arches

A long garden aisle draws every eye to a set of sculpted white arches, with lawn and planted borders reaching out on either side. This is the grandest of the three ceremony settings, sized for your whole guest list with room to breathe. White garden chairs are provided and arranged by our team.

IN THIS SPACE

- White garden chairs provided
- Open lawn and garden borders
- Processional garden aisle
- Room for the fullest guest list

Holds up to 300

The White Chapel

An intimate ceremony, all in white

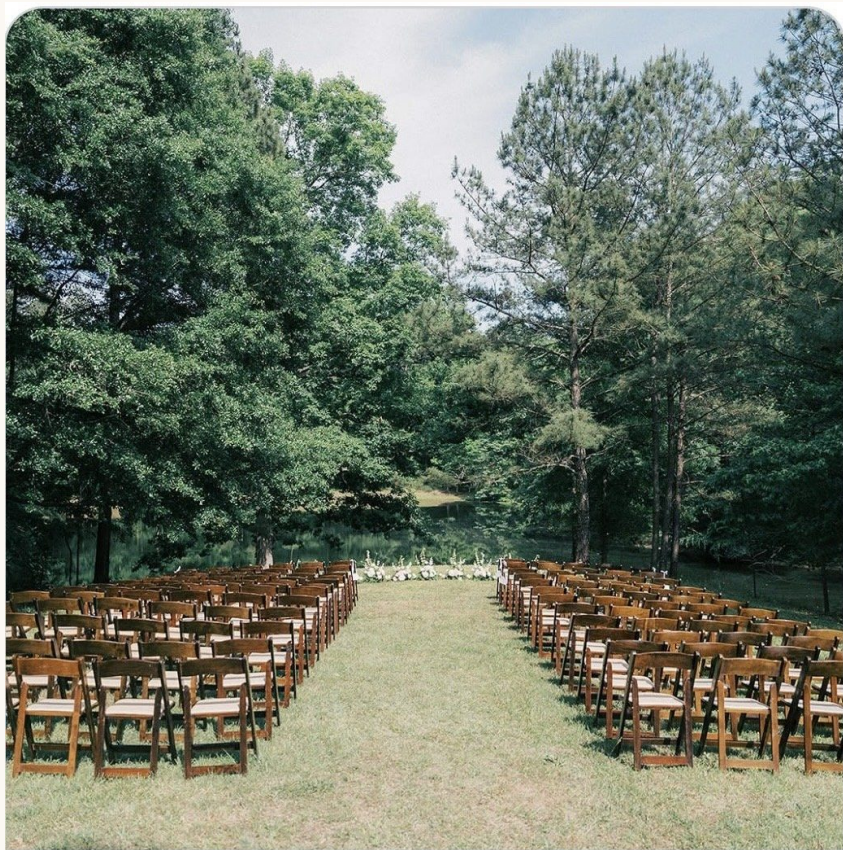

A freestanding chapel on the grounds

A true chapel, white inside and out, with pews, chandeliers and a steeple against the trees. Inside, light walls and warm wood floors hold the room in a hush. For couples who want their vows close and quiet, with every guest near enough to hear them spoken, this is the one.

IN THIS SPACE

- White pews and chandeliers
- Climate-sheltered ceremony
- Intimate scale for vows
- Steeple portrait backdrop

Holds up to 75

The Lakefront

Vows at the water's edge

The two-acre pond at the edge of the grounds

Rows of chairs face the water, with the tree line mirrored on the surface behind you. The light in the late afternoon is the kind photographers plan whole days around. After the ceremony, the two of you can slip out on the water for portraits while cocktail hour begins.

IN THIS SPACE

- Ceremony at the water's edge
- Tree-lined backdrop
- Golden-hour portrait light
- Rowboat portraits on the pond

Holds up to 200

The Courtyard

Market lights and an outdoor bar

Between the house and the gardens, around the fountain

A stone courtyard gathered around a three-tier fountain, strung overhead with market lights and served by its own outdoor bar. Guests spill naturally from the ceremony into this space, drinks in hand, while the two of you take portraits. Your planner shapes the bar, cocktail tables and flow to your guest count.

IN THIS SPACE

- Outdoor bar
- Market lights overhead
- Three-tier fountain centerpiece
- Flows from every ceremony site

Holds up to 250

The Garden Pavilion

Indoors and outdoors at once

Adjoining the conservatory and gardens

A covered, open-sided pavilion set in clipped hedges and hydrangeas, with garden paths approaching from every direction. Shade in the heat, cover if the sky turns, and open air the whole way through. It moves easily from cocktail hour into dinner if you choose it twice.

IN THIS SPACE

- Indoor-outdoor cocktail space
- Covered against sun and rain
- Garden and fountain approaches
- Can host reception as well

Holds up to 120

The Flower Garden

Among the butterflies and hummingbirds

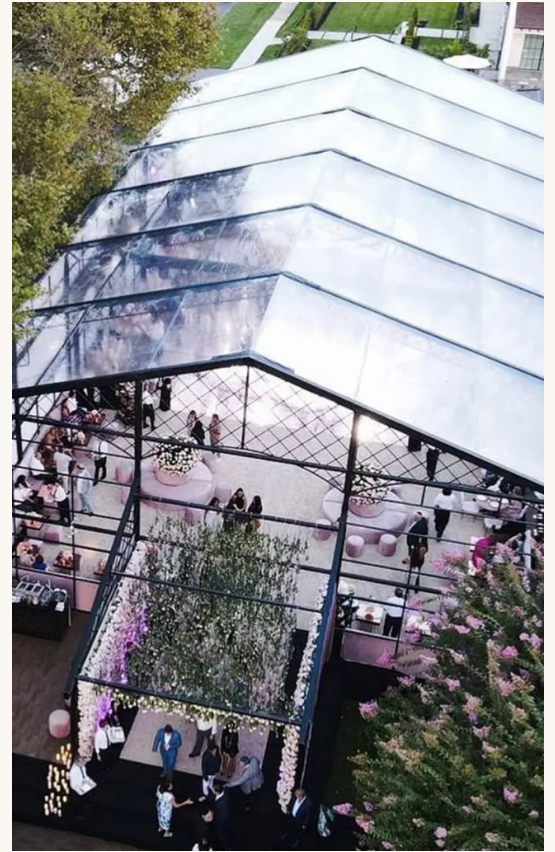

The cutting garden, in full bloom

Cocktail hour inside the flower garden itself, with paths winding between beds in full bloom and market lights strung above. Butterflies and hummingbirds work the blooms around your guests. The same garden can instead be set for dinner under the lights, so you may choose it here or for your reception.

IN THIS SPACE

- Set among the growing blooms
- Butterflies and hummingbirds
- Market lights above
- Can be set for reception instead

Holds up to 200

The Conservatory

Dinner under stars

To the left of the Garden Pavilion

A soaring clear hall that glows like a lantern after dark, with the gardens visible through every panel. This is the largest dinner setting on the estate, seating your full guest list with a dance floor and room to spare. Climate-controlled comfort in every season, with the stars overhead through the clear ceiling.

IN THIS SPACE

- Seats the fullest guest list
- Clear walls and ceiling
- Climate controlled
- Dance floor and band space

Holds up to 300

The Garden Pavilion

Dinner by the outdoor fireplace

Adjoining the conservatory and gardens

The pavilion set for dinner: long tables under the covered roof, gardens at every open side, and an outdoor fireplace that draws people in as the evening cools. Sized for celebrations of up to 120, it keeps the whole night in one warm, open-air room.

IN THIS SPACE

- Reception for up to 120
- Outdoor fireplace
- Covered and open-sided
- Gardens at every edge

Holds up to 120

The Flower Garden

Dinner under market lights, in the blooms

The cutting garden, in full bloom

Dinner tables set directly in the flower garden, under strung market lights, with the blooms close enough to touch. As dusk falls the lights come up and the garden turns golden. The most romantic of the three reception settings, and the one your florist will envy.

IN THIS SPACE

- Tables among the blooms
- Market lights at dusk
- Open-air garden dinner
- Can host cocktail hour instead

Dinner for up to 120

Where your day will live

Write in your choices below, or your shortlist if you are still deciding. We will walk every contender on your tour and hold your favorites until you are sure.

YOUR CEREMONY

The Garden Arches · The White Chapel · The Lakefront

YOUR COCKTAIL HOUR

The Courtyard · The Garden Pavilion · The Flower Garden

YOUR RECEPTION

The Conservatory · The Garden Pavilion · The Flower Garden

NOTES FOR US (MUST-HAVES, WORRIES, WILD IDEAS)

Email this back to events@wildflowermadison.com, bring it to your tour, or tell your planner in person. Every choice here can change until your final walkthrough.