WEDDING DATE

YOUR NIGHT AT THE INN

Check-in 4:00 p.m. · Checkout 9:00 a.m. · Five rooms at the Inn and the five-bedroom Legacy House

Before you begin

Think of this as a seating chart for sleeping. There is no wrong answer, only the arrangement that will make your people happiest. A few thoughts from couples who have done this before:

Put the people who will miss the end of the night closest to home.

Parents and grandparents tend to love the ground-floor rooms with porch entrances: the Garden Room, River Room and Estate Room. No stairs, and the rocking chairs are right outside the door.

Give the wedding party the Legacy House.

Five bedrooms, a big kitchen and a living room made for a late-night debrief. It is the natural home for bridesmaids, groomsmen or one whole side of the family. (The two of you have the bridal suite, so you are already spoken for.)

Pair the Rose Room and the Gardenia for close friends.

They sit side by side upstairs and can become a two-bedroom suite.

WHEN YOU ARE FINISHED

Type directly into this PDF and email it back, or print it and bring it to your planning meeting. Nothing here is final until you say so. Change your mind as often as you like.

Garden Room

One four-poster queen bed · Sleeps 2, or 3 with a twin rollaway

Ground floor, private entrance from the covered porch

Warm wood floors, soaring ceilings and oversized windows fill this room with natural light. A private entrance from the covered porch opens to meadow, pasture and cultivated gardens. An English four-poster queen bed anchors the room, with a separate sitting area and private bath. Early mornings bring birdsong and soft meadow light.

A twin memory-foam rollaway can host a third guest. Ask us if you would like one.
